

Contributors

AMRITA CHAKRABORTI is doctoral candidate and UGC-NET Junior Research Fellow at the Department of English, Jadavpur University. Her interest areas are Woolf Studies, Modernism and Feminism.

APARNA SINGH is Assistant Professor of English at Diamond Harbour Women's University. She is currently a Sahitya Academy reviewer of the English translation of Vinayak, a Sahitya Academy Award winning Hindi novel.

DEBANJAN MITRA is Assistant Professor of English at Mrinalini Datta Mahavidyapith, Birati. His research interests include Urban Studies, Reception Studies and Cultures of Dissent.

DIKSHA DHAR is Assistant Professor of English at K.L. University, Hyderabad. The visual methods of studying history, the possible emergence of a 'viewing public' and their significance within the larger sphere of the city interest her.

JANKI SINGH is Assistant Professor of English at Bhairab Ganguly College, Kolkata. Her areas of interest include Gender Studies, South Asian Studies and translation (Nepali to English).

SOMDATTA BHATTACHARYA is an Assistant Professor of Humanities and Social Sciences at IIT, Kharagpur. She is interested in social theories of space and spatiality, Urban Cultural Studies, Comparative Indian Literatures, Indian Writing in English, Crime Fiction, Gender and South Asian Popular Culture.

SWATI CHATTERJEE teaches French at Alliance Française du Bengale and Sushila Birla Girls' School, Kolkata. Her areas of interest are sensorial and urban studies, everyday histories and comparative studies of the British and the French colonial histories.

SREERADHA SETH is a final year English Honours student at the Department of English, Loreto College